Macy is 11 years old and loves being on s competitive dance team and competes level 7 gymnastics. She was the PA state Champion when she was level 4. She also competes in her 5th grade travel basketball team. Macy loves to compete and be pushed to be her best! Most of all she loves competing with her friends. Unfortunately the epidemic caused her state competition to be cancelled this year. She will use this time to prepare for the upcoming season!

Achievements: Macys has been dancing with her dance team since she 6 at The Dance Place in PA. They have grown into such an snacking team, placing 1 and 2 place with a high score award last season. They tend to get a lot of special awards as well! They are sassy and full of life!

Gia Vehr is 11 years old. She started gymnastics when she was 3 years old. She was a competitive gymnast until she was 8. After competing her level 8 season, we were made aware of some unforeseen circumstances and pulled her from the sport. We felt cheer would be a great sport for her to transition to. She is cheering at Diamond Elite Cheer and Tumble in Nixa, MO. She is coached by Nicole Mitchell, Natalie Mitchell and Leanne Simons. Gia is competing on 3 teams. One of which just won JamFest SuperNationals in Indianapolis, IN earning Gia her first National Champion Jacket and Champion Ring. What an awesome accomplishment as a second year cheerleader.

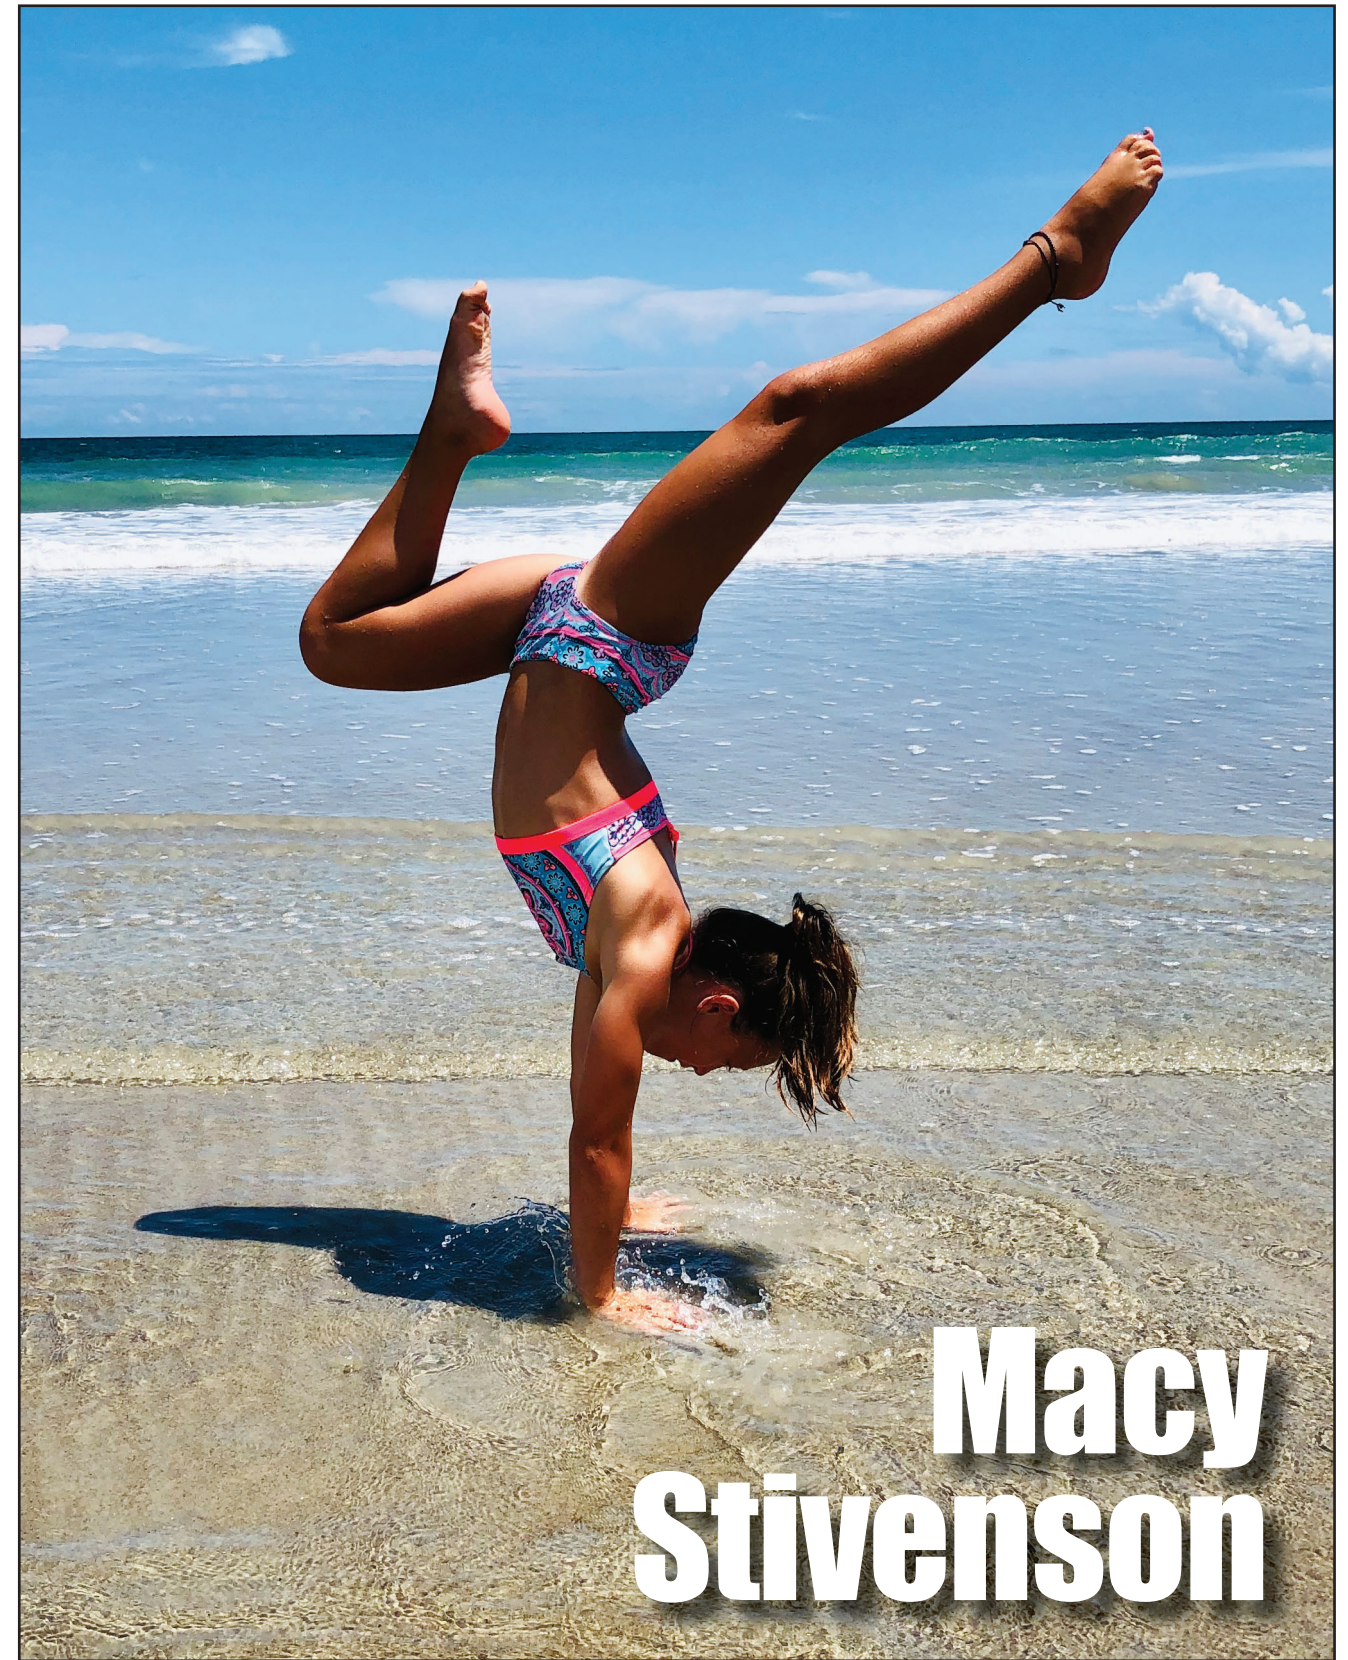

Gia is working hard to build her social media following. Her goal is to be a well known influencer for young girls. She wants to inspire young ladies to dream big and work hard to reach their goals. She also loves fashion!! She wants to bring her followers into her world of fashion by tagging the designers of her favorite outfits!!

Gia is currently a model for NYMMG. She is an ambassador for Rebel Cheer Athletics, Strive Girl, Coldwater Bottle and she has a few designers in the works that she will be working with in the near future. She is a lead model for a local boutique Jade Tank that carries everything a young girl would need or want. The future is bright for this young lady. The sky is the limit. She may only be 11, but her drive and determination is top notch! We are looking forward to seeing what the future holds for this amazingly talented young lady.

Caroline Pennington

Caroline is a retired ballerina and former professional circus performer and now is freelance. She is a professional contortionist, hand balancer, fire performer, performance artist, and model and has achieved international acclaim for her accomplishments.

She is also an artist at Front Street Art in Dayton Ohio where she both performs and models for galleries. Caroline has been published for her artwork in modeling multiple times and been the subject of gallery photos, she has performed on the National stage, and she was "discovered" on Instagram for her work in modeling, as a choreographer, as a contortionist, and as a performance artist and she cannot wait for what's to come.

Chevellie Bauman

Chevelle Bauman started playing ball at the T-ball level, then to coach pitch, followed by minor league, off to majors league and even Allstars, which were all for the Muncy Little League. She fell in love with pitching. Jenny Finch was this girls' role model. Going to Jenny Finchs softball camps was just what she dreamed about as a kid. Travel Fastpitch softball was introduced to her at age 9.

One struggle for Chevelle was stamina. She knew she had to be able pitch an entire game, and at one point she couldn't, and to have a greatest amount of confidence in her circle. So her biggest goal for her self was to be able to pitch an entire game with the confidence needed to stay in the game both physically and mentally. Soon she would conquer the biggest goal she set.

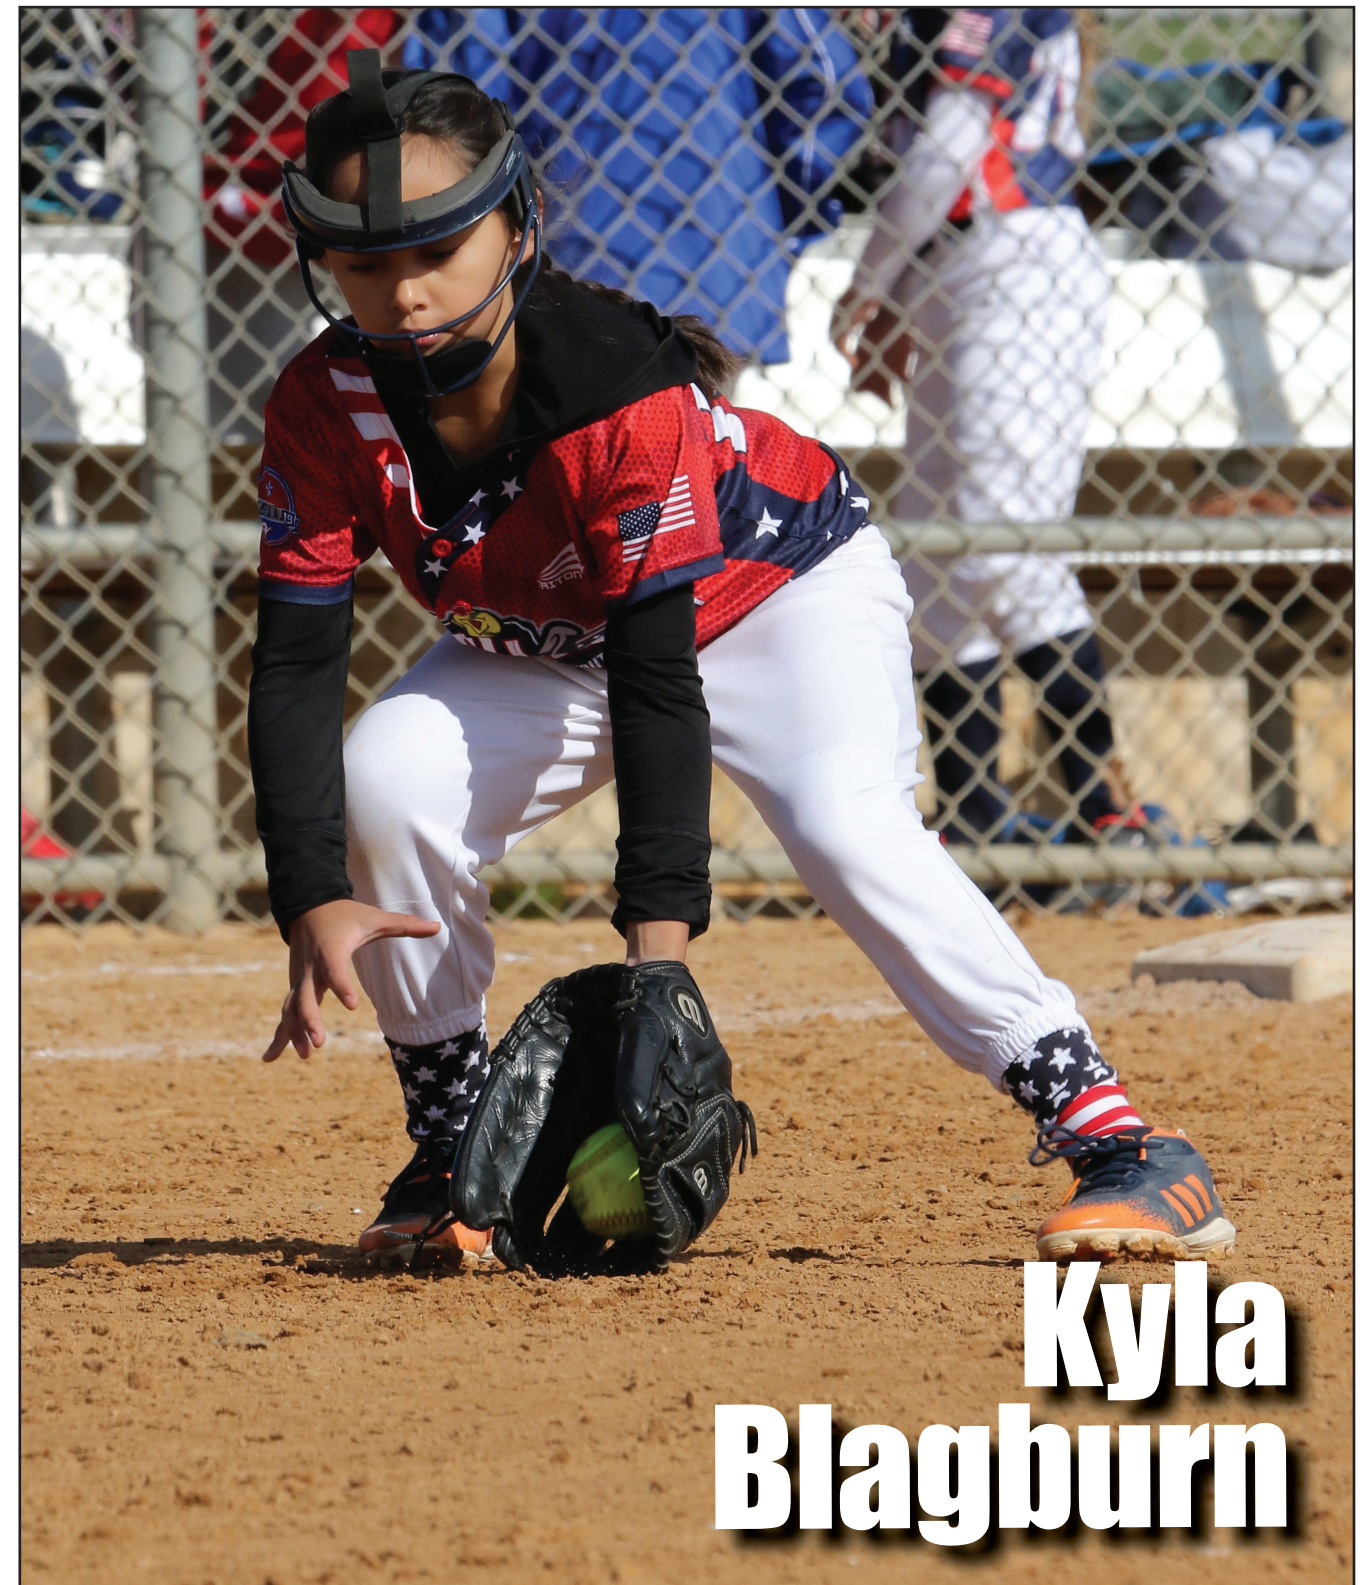

She is currently on a 14U travel Fastpitch softball team called Central PA Havoc. This year, 2020, was hard. With tournaments cancelling due to Covid-19, it was a set back for Chevelle and her teammates. But when that light turned green, it literally meant GO! CPA Havoc won several tournaments this summer, including USA States 2020 in State College, PA. Chevelle even pitched her first NO-hitter. Thank you for letting me tell you a little about my daughter, Chevelle.

Addison is a multi sport athlete. She plays soccer and basketball. She is a goalie in soccer and gets some field time. Basketball she plays point guard and guard. She also used to be an All star cheerleader. Has won multiple national championships and US finals champion.

Having watched her older twin brothers play in the Texas State 3A baseball championship game for West Orange-Stark High School (Orange, Tx), Kyla developed a love for the game early. Kyla started playing coach pitch at age three (skipping T-Ball). Her first (and only hit) that year she was thrown out after running straight to third base. She learned quickly thereafter, playing on two league championship teams and was a multi-time All-Star. She started playing select at age seven and began to show what she could do hitting and fielding. She was selected and played in Youthsports All-American games in Austin, Texas last year.

Currently, at 10-years of age, Kyla has played every position on the field and is a fledgling pitcher. In just, her second start she struck out 7 batters. Her most memorable moment besides meeting Jennie Finch, was her walk-off triple to win a bracket game for her 10U Gladiator team from Beaumont, Texas. She is quick to offer her teammates her input on pitching mechanics or help in anything else they need. Her future goals is to help her baby sister, Katherine, learn the game and hopefully follow her brothers footsteps playing for West Orange-Stark, playing for the University of Texas, and maybe pro softball.

Hena Spahic

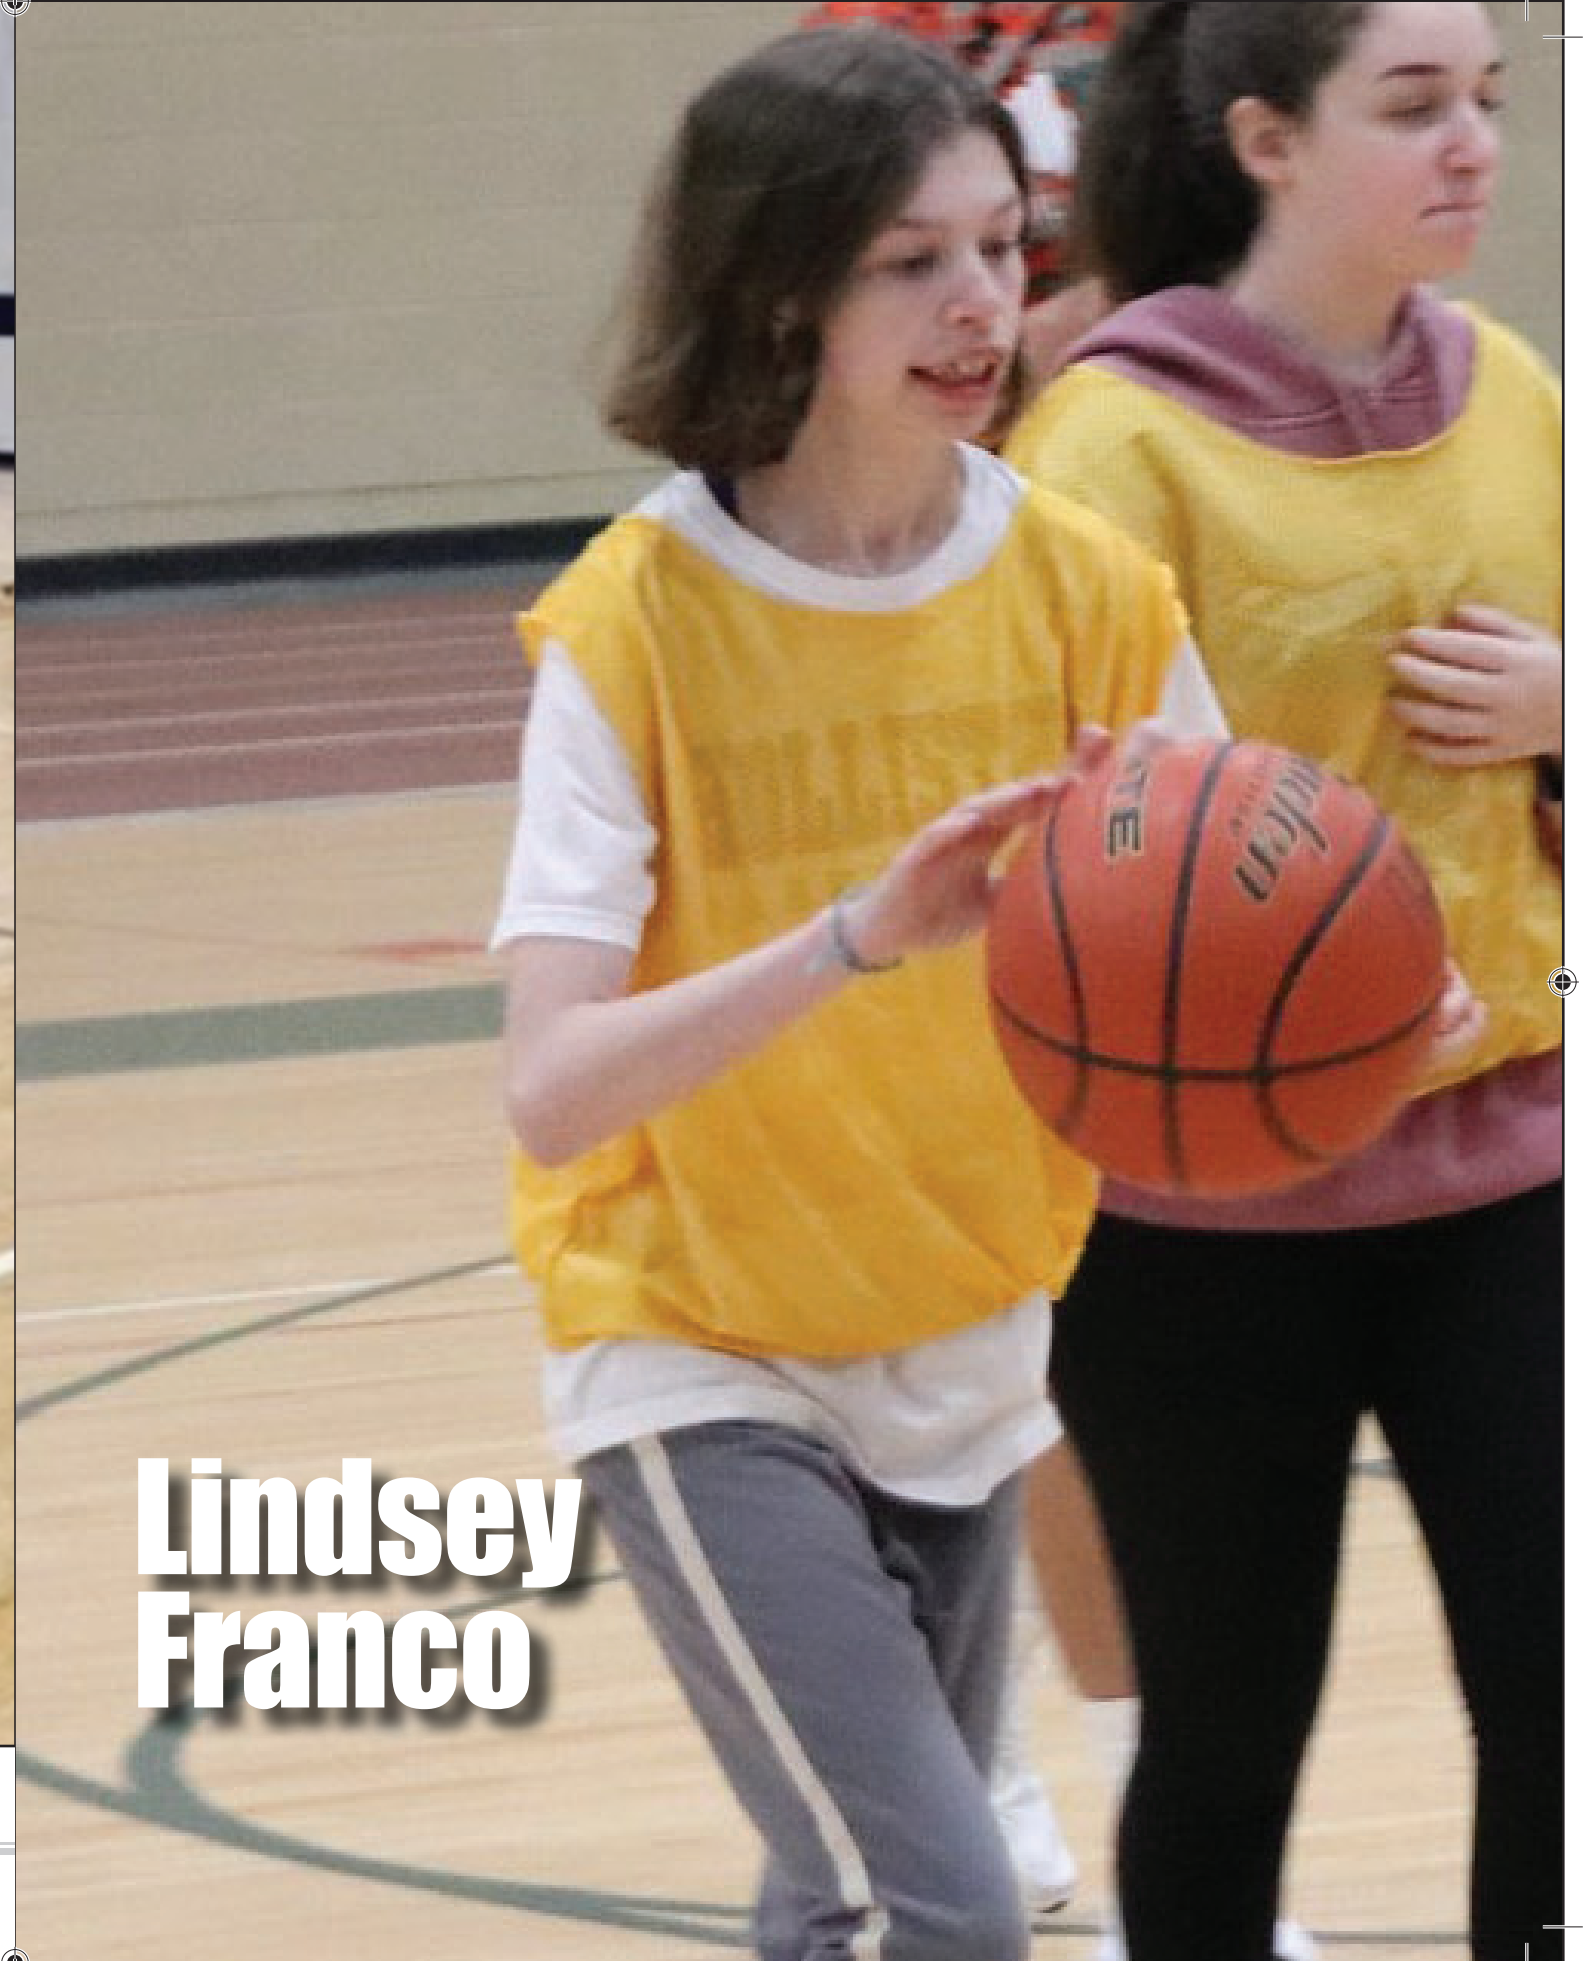

Lindsey has been a dedicated Special Olympics athlete for over 8 years. For years, she participated in the Special Olympics gymnastics and was a medal winner each year in multiple gymnastics events. Lindsey is also a long time participant in Special Olympics basketball. In 2019, as a high school freshman, she participated on her school's first ever Unified Basketball team. Lindsey scored the first ever basket for her team, in the first game of the season! The team had a great season and Lindsey brought her tenacious attitude and fun loving spirit to each and every game!

She is also an honorary team member of the Framingham State University softball team, through the Team Impact program. Lindsey loves to attend practices and cheer her team on. She is a tireless supporter of her team and brings great energy and enthusiasm to all of their games and team activities.

Lindsey is a competitive person, who loves all sorts of sporting activities. She brings her drive to succeed to all of the activities she has participated in. We are constantly amazed by all she has accomplished and know she will continue to do great things as she continues in her high school career. Next up, the first ever Unified Track team for her school. Go Lindsey!

Hena is a diligent and hard-working team player. She is a CCHS (Mineral Wells) student. She is an exchange from Europe. The player who organizes a game, responsible for controlling the floor, play calling, finding her teammates, and giving assists. I think she is a great playmaker and the player with the highest number of assists on EURO 2018 (Montenegro 2018). Last year Hena ended the state league with an average of 16,8 points per game and 6,0 ass per game. She won: MVP for 2019/2020, MVP district and all-state. MVP. She is a member of the national basketball team of Bosnia and Herzegovina U16, U18. She is extremely fast, in defense of stable, solid, good jumps, an excellent leader, and organizer of the game. Communicate easily with teammates both on and off the field. Also learned to read the movements and actions done by the opposing players and cut the action. Hena is capable of elaborating to craft some hand signals to symbolize the game. The player with excellent technical and tactical skills. A reliable player who does the most complex tasks and meets all the requirements, maximum obedient, and responsible in attack and defense.

She plays basketball for CCHS and temporary for P.U.S.H. Athletic Academy.

Qualities make her a good basketball player :

Self-discipline.

Scott Kaveny was born on September 8th, 1983 in Seoul, Korea and as a twin brother. He was then adopted to America with his twin at 3 months old. He started out as a child loving rollerblading and was inspired by the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta, GA. In his teenage years, he started to get into snowboarding and gymnastics.

Although he was a great snowboarder and gymnast throughout his teens, he decided to switch to skiing at age 23. Even though he started very late and never went to ski school, he learned it all himself and got good really quick. In the next couple years, he was already going down black diamond slopes and decided to enroll in his first USSA competition for mogul skiing on April 5, 2008 and his first summer at the freestyle pool at the Utah Olympic Park camp to learn ski jumps that same summer.

After that summer, he was hooked, but had a series of events that held him back for a while. Despite all the trouble, injuries, lack of support, falls, ridicule, and financial difficulties, Scott persevered and stayed the course. In 2013, he was able to get from top to bottom with a spread eagle and twister spread as his two tricks with no problem.

Fast forward to today, he currently lives at the Utah Olympic Park Residences as a registered athlete. He's a well respected athlete on the Park City Freestyle Ski Team (PCSS) and was told he was the "most dedicated athlete" they had. He has gotten a full on water and backflip/layout on snow. He will also be getting his dual citizenship around the middle of this year for Korea so he can later have a choice between either representing the US Freestyle Ski Team or the Korean Freestyle Ski Team for international competitions. He plans on skiing for several more years to stretch his potential and is an example to many younger athletes.

Most importantly, he wants to remind younger athletes to not give up on their dreams, fail fast and forward, and continue progressing regardless of age, health issues, or limiting beliefs. As a mentor and friend, who's a two-time Olympian for Argentina named Clyde Getty, once told him "age is only in the mind".
